THE TIDAL WAVE.

Wisconsin Will Send but One Republican Congressman.

Vilas Leads as Candidate for the Seat in the Senate.

Victory of the Democrats in Illinois was Complete.

The Official Count in Kansas Changes the Aspect.

The Cost in Wisconsin.

MILWAUKEE, November 7.—Official returns from the First district to day show the election of Clinton Babbit (democrat) over H. A. Cooper (republican). This leaves only one republican congressman in Wisconsin (Haugen) in the Eighth district, who has about 1,000 majority, and Bexley, the democratic candidate, threatens to make a contest. The republicans suffer a net loss of six congressmen, besides the legislature, which will probably elect ex Secretary Vilas to succeed Senator Spooner, although other candidates are springing up. Peck (democrat), for governor, has a majority of about 30,000.

Complete Democratic Victory.

CHICAGO, November 7.—At last the returns from the state of Illinois have become sufficiently complete to announce decidedly the result on the state ticket. The democrats have won, and Edwin S. Wilson, of Olney, is elected state treasurer by 11,436 and Henry Raab, of Belleville, superintendent of public instruction by 36,144. No computations have been made as yet on the trusteeship of the University of Illinois, but the indications are that the three democratic nominees have also been elected by a slight majority. The exact vote will not be ascertained until the returns have been canvassed and sent to the secretary of state at Springfield, but the complete returns leave no doubt that the result is as herein stated and that the entire democratic state ticket is elected.

The returns which furnished this result are official from all the counties in the state except eight. These have been carefully estimated. As they have heretofore generally given democratic majorities, there can be no doubt that the vote as announced is substantially correct. Not until to day have the republicans of Illinois realized the full extent of the avalanche which has obliterated the old-time majority in this state. Full returns to day showed that in addition to the democratic gains heretofore announced in their congressional districts, Congressmen Payson and Hill had also been defeated, and Snow and Stewart, democrats, elected. In response to a request for information, Congressmen Hill and Payson have telegraphed the Associated Press conceding their defeat, the former by 650 and the latter by 500 to 700. This makes the congressional delegation from Illinois stand 14 democrats and 6 republicans.

The great delay in arriving at an authentic conclusion in this state has been due to the close vote of the republicans in this county. Never in the history of the state have the respective tickets everywhere been so scratched, and in Cook county the result on state officers was not even approximated until a late hour last night, over 48 hours after the polls closed. All estimates on which previous reports were based were valueless. In view of the peculiar tidal wave which swept over the state, and which is unprecedented in the history of Illinois.

The Canvass in Kansas.

KANSAS CITY, November 7.—The official canvass of the votes cast at the late elections in Kansas is being made to night at Topeka, and has progressed far enough to show that the entire republican state ticket has been elected, with the exception of A. B. Kellogg, who is defeated for re-election as attorney general by Ives, the Farmers' Alliance candidate. The republican majority is placed at about 10,000. The vote on congressmen is not changed by the official count. The Kansas delegation will stand two republicans and five Farmers' Alliance. The legislature is still believed to be Farmers' Alliance.

Duty of the Party.

CHICAGO, November 7.—The Evening Journal, for many years one of the staunchest of republican papers, in the course of a double-leaded editorial on the political situation, this afternoon says: "What now should be the republican party's course is simply this: That it must live up to its real principles. The McKinley bill must not stand unchanged. It must be modified in almost its every feature. A national caucus of the party has been held, and its leaders must obey the dictates of the cause. There is no occasion for delay until a democratic congress has assembled and a republican senate given assent to the changes required. The republican party is the party of the people, and one of reform within itself. It has now its opportunity."

Democratic Rejoicing.

WASHINGTON, November 7.—A salute of 52 guns to celebrate the democratic victory in securing control of the Fifty-second congress was fired from a point several squares to the southwest of the president's house this evening. It was intended to fire the salute in the White house lot, immediately south of the president's house, where previous salutes of this nature have been fired, but Colonel Ernest, superintendent of public buildings and grounds, positively refused permission for it to be fired from there. He did not think it proper that such a salute as the one proposed should be fired under the windows of the White house and on property belonging to the whole people.

New Hampshire Programme.

BOSTON, November 7.—A special from Nashua, N. H., says there is no doubt the republicans will have a special session of the present legislature in December, now republican by 35 majority. They will then officially recognize the new census returns and admit new members, giving them a majority in the legislature.

Official Census Returns.

MINNEAPOLIS, November 7.—Returns from 76 of 79 counties give Merriam (republican) for governor 4,290 plurality. An official count will probably be necessary.

The election of Halvorson (alliance) to congress from the Fifth district is conceded.

Result in North Dakota.

SIOUX FALLS, November 7.—The Press (republican) has returns showing the entire republican state ticket is elected. Reports from all but two senatorial and nine representative districts show the republicans have one majority in the senate, the house standing [illegible] republicans, and 35 democrats and Alliance men. Thirty one counties of the state give Pierce 7659 majority for state auditor.

Washington is Republican.

PORTLAND, November 7.—Complete and incomplete returns from all but three counties of Washington give Wilson (republican) for congress 2,000 majority. Wilson's majority in the state will probably be between 7,000 and 8,000. The legislature now stands: Senate, Republicans, 31, democrats 3, doubtful 1; house, republicans 61, democrats 1.

Republicans from the South.

WINCHESTER, N. Y., November 7.—Returns from the mountain counties of the Tenth district elect Hill, republican, to congress.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., November 7.—In the First congressional district Taylor, republican, is elected. Second, Haynes, republican.

Democrats Ahead.

CHICAGO, November 7.—Official returns from all but seven counties in Illinois and careful estimates give Wilson, democrat, for state treasurer, 10,000 plurality over Amberg, republican, and Raab, democrat, for superintendent of public instruction, 3511 over Edwards, republican.

A Close Contest.

HARTFORD, November 7.—The official vote of the state by first returns, which cast out the prohibition vote in many towns, show Morris has 57 plurality. With the prohibition vote in, he is defeated.

Dixon Elected.

HELENA, November 7.—The Journal, republican, concedes the election of Dixon, democrat, to congress.

Markham's Plurality.

SAN FRANCISCO, November 7.—Returns from 1354 precincts in California give Markham (republican) a plurality of 14,344.

G. A. R. Arrangements.

DETROIT, November 7.—The executive committee of the administrative council of the G. A. R. met in the Russell house parlors to day and outlined the business to come before the council during its session. In the afternoon a meeting was held at which modifications of the rules and laws which govern the order were considered, together with a number of communications. At 4 o'clock a large delegation of prominent citizens, headed by Mayor Pingree, called on the council at the Russell house for the purpose of consulting with the members of the executive committee with a view to arriving at the time as near as possible when the reunion would be held here next year. A motion was adopted fixing the limit of time for holding the reunion between July 25 and August 20, and the meeting adjourned.

Wiped Out by Fire.

PETERSBURG, Ind., November 7.—A terrible conflagration occurred at Winslow, a town of Pike county, this state, this morning. The whole town has been wiped out of existence. The houses were all frame structures and the fire spread with such rapidity that all the efforts of the people to extinguish it proved unavailing. Not a house is left standing and 400 persons are homeless. There is no fire department and no provision was made for the sudden coming of such a calamity. How the fire originated has not yet been ascertained, but it is supposed to have been caused by a defective flue. Several of the houses were close together, and once the fire had made so much headway it was impossible to isolate it. There will be much suffering among the people.

Godfrey the Favorite.

NEW YORK, November 7.—Everything is in readiness for the glove contest between Geo. Godfrey, the colored heavy weight pugilist of Boston, and Ed. Smith of Denver, which has been announced to take place at the Puritan Athletic club, Long Island City, next Tuesday night, and the club officials say that the contest will certainly be held. There has been some betting in this city, with the odds slightly in favor of Godfrey, but Smith, who stands about 5 feet 11 tall and will have the advantage of a couple of inches in height and about 15 pounds in weight, has several supporters who are taking all such bets.

Death of a Pioneer.

CHICAGO, November 7.—Hon. H. B. Gillespie, of Aspen, Colo., one of the members of the World's Columbian commission, who has been in Chicago several weeks, received information that his father had died suddenly at Manhattan, Kas., in his 90th year. The deceased was one of the original pioneers of Kansas and not only prominent in the state where he so long resided but was known throughout the entire west.

Note of Discount Raised.

LONDON, November 7.—The Bank of England advanced the rate of discount from 5 per cent to 6. Heavy withdrawal from the bank for the continent was the cause of the bank raising the rate. If the withdrawal of gold from the bank continues a further advance will probably be made at the stock exchange. The announcement first caused flatness, but since then the market has been slowly recovering.

Eloped with Japs.

ANN ARBOR, Mich., November 7.—Two Japanese students of the Michigan university have created quite a sensation by eloping with two American girls from here. The Japs are Kulsutaro Fukushima and Reitaro Tokano, both of noble families and graduates of the law department here last year. One of the girls was Miss Fuller, of Ypsilanti, who is quite young and of good family.

Cause of the Shooting.

KANSAS CITY, November 7.—A special from Sedalia says: Colonel Price, who was shot by Judge Higgins yesterday, died to-night. Judge Higgins was released to-day on $10,000 bonds and has not been rearrested. During the altercation between him and Colonel Price the colonel slapped the judge in the face. It was then that the judge fired the fatal shot. His plea will be self defense, probably.

Successful Collections.

PHILADELPHIA, November 7.—The meeting held to-night at the Academy of Music by the Irish nationalist leaders was fully as successful as the one held last night. At the conclusion of the speeches, M. J. Ryan announced that in the two days' stay of the distinguished men in this city they had collected over $16,000.

Insurance Company Fails.

CHICAGO, November 7.—The Mutual Fire Insurance company of Chicago has made an assignment for the benefit of its creditors. Liabilities, $35,000; assets, $18,800. The assignment was made on account of heavy withdrawals of those who had given premium notes, and heavy fire losses recently.

[illegible] Offered.

ST. LOUIS, November 7.—Vice President Clark, of the Missouri Pacific railway, has offered a reward of $1,000 for the arrest and conviction of the person or persons who caused the wreck of train No. 3, near Otterville, at 2.40 o'clock this morning.

THE INDIAN MESSIAH.

General Miles' Discoveries Among the Indians.

The Religious Craze Very General in the Northwest.

He Thinks the Mormons are Responsible for It.

Peculiarities Reported by Those Who Have Seen the Messiah.

Miles Among the Indians.

ST. PAUL, November 7.—General Miles, commanding the military division of Missouri, is here on his return from his western tour. Regarding the causes and nature of the religious craze existing among the Indian tribes, he says: "I have been in the Utah, Montana and Cheyenne reservations investigating this craze. You no doubt have heard the Indian tribes believed that the Messiah had come, who is to restore them to their former glory, bring back the buffalo and drive the whites from the land. I have learned that this belief exists among various tribes, the Sioux, Cheyennes, Blackfeet, Shoshones and other tribes. In all the craze extended to sixteen tribes, the Snake Indians being the only ones to repudiate it. There are no doubt many Indians holding this belief in an Indian Messiah sincere, and a few have certainly some person whom they look to be that Messiah. Several small parties of Indians have gone westward from their tribes to some point which, near as I can locate it, is in Nevada. There they have been shown somebody disguised as a Messiah and have spoken with him.

"I am inclined to believe there is more than one person impersonating this Messiah, as when the Sioux have spoken with him he replied in the Sioux language, and to the Blackfeet he spoke in their tongue, and so on with the representatives of each nation or tribe speaking their own language to each."

"Who do you think responsible for this imposition upon the Indians?"

"I cannot say positively, but it is my belief that the Mormons are the prime movers in it. This is not a hard statement to believe, for there are 200,000 Mormons, and they themselves claim to believe in prophets and spiritual manifestations, and they even now claim to hold intercourse with the spirit of Joe Smith; besides, they have had missionaries at work among the Indians many years and have made many converts."

"Do you think this new belief of the Indians will lead to outbreak and bloodshed?"

"I do not think so, but where an ignorant race becomes religious fanatics it is hard to tell just what they will do. It is noteworthy, however, that this so-called Messiah tells the Indians that when he comes to reign over them firearms will no longer be used or necessary. He tells them also that with his coming dead Indians will all be raised to life, the buffalo will return and he will draw a line behind us which he will gather all the Indians, and then he will roll the earth back upon the whites. This has naturally excited the Indians and large numbers accepted the new belief. Among those who do so, none are more ardent than Sitting Bull, who is intensely Indian in all his ideas."

"Do you think the person who is impersonating the Messiah is a white man or an Indian?"

"Those who have seen him say he is muffled up so they do not see his face, but I believe he is a full-blooded white. The argument the Indians use in discussing is the whites have had their Messiah, and the Indians now have theirs. The situation is not alarming in any way and I do not know whether any action will be taken by the government regarding the matter until after I make my report."

Burned to Death.

LOUISVILLE, November 7.—A destructive fire devasted Owensboro last night, and was attended with loss of life. At 1 o'clock the fire had destroyed property to the amount of a quarter of a million, and was still burning. The fire originated in the basement of the Trudd house, which was filled with sleeping guests. The house was rapidly gutted, and the guests were awakened and ran out into the street in their night clothing, while many, crazed by fear, jumped from the windows. Among these were two ladies and a child, both of whom were badly injured.

William H. Kohn jumped from a third story window and fell on his back; he is fatally injured. Five guests are missing. It is believed they have been burned to death while sleeping.

A high wind was blowing at the time, and after the hotel had been swept away the flames spread to the Bank of Commerce building, and that, with the buildings occupied by Marks & Dreman grocers, and Quickbert & Co., merchant tailors, the Owensboro Messenger, Marker's saloon, Smith, Butcher, Williams, furnishing goods, John Reinhardt, furniture, with A. J. Malley's fine stone building and D. A. Evans' livery stable, were speedily destroyed.

OWENSBORO, Ky., November 7.—After daylight this morning the six missing people were found. There were several narrow escapes from the burning hotel. Charles Rainford, of New Albany, and Chas. Leibrick, of Philadelphia, were badly and probably fatally burned. The loss will probably reach $150,000.

The Londoner Case.

DENVER, November 7.—The supreme court this morning dismissed the appeal in the Londoner case and granted counsel permission to withdraw the record and file the same upon error. The appeal was dismissed for the reason that the judgment of the court below is not appealable under the laws of this state. This action of the court did not involve the merits of the controversy, the court deciding merely that a review of the decision of Judge Allen was desired such review could only be had upon a writ of error and not upon appeal.

Upon the announcement of the decision Judge Marsh, council for the mayor, gave notice that he would sue out a writ of error and ask that the same be made a supersedeas to the judgment of the district court until such time as the case could be finally disposed of upon its merits. The decision upon the application to dismiss the appeal was made at the first sitting of the court, after the same was submitted by counsel. The court gave notice that a written opinion would probably be filed to-morrow. It will be very brief.

The official order issued by the supreme court, as it appears upon the records of the clerk, reads as follows: "Londoner vs. the People. Motion to dismiss appeal allowed without prejudice, and leave granted appellant to withdraw and file transcript for writ of error. Opinion by Justice Hayt."

This decision means simply that the case is not an appealable one, and that it was dismissed and not that Mr. Londoner was acted, as many here supposed.

Griego's Last Day.

CANON CITY, November 7.—Griego is in a penitent condition to-day and has written a letter to his wife and one to his brother, expressing his penitence and his trust in a future state. The letter to his wife is touching and tender. He says he has been true to her, and believes God has pardoned him for his misdeeds. The letter is full of endearing and loving expressions for his wife and child, and frequent references are made to pardon from all whom he has offended. The letter to his brother is also very touching. He writes that he is putting trust in the Trinity, that on the 7th or 8th, between two days, he will be called upon to die. He expresses a desire to be buried by the side of relatives in Trinidad. He is desirous of having his relatives present.

Two officials came from Trinidad last night, who said he was of a hard family, and thought he was the best one Griego was present when search was being made for Underwood's murderers, and viewed the remains with the crowd, apparently innocent. The execution will probably take place some time to-night, the warden being disposed to let him live as long as possible.

GIVEN ANOTHER DAY.

DENVER, November 7.—Later reports from Canon City say the Italian Griego will not be hung until to-morrow night.

The Gibbons Cushing Mill.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., November 7.—The Gibbons-Cushing mill was looked for ward to with lively interest by the sports. A year ago Gibbons defeated Cushing in 24 rounds, but Cushing claimed his ill success was due to a chance blow. When finally another match was arranged, each found backers ready to deposit money.

Gibbons is 20 years of age, and has been a pugilist since his 14th year, and was never defeated. Cushing, although 24 years of age, has not engaged in so many ring contests. The mill was for $1,000 a side and the lightweight championship of the world.

The rendezvous selected was near the Connecticut and Rhode Island boundary. Gibbons weighed 129½, Cushing 127. Cushing assumed the aggressive at the first, and there was some sharp fighting. Several rounds were fought tamely. Then Cushing, evidently confident, took the offensive. The Brooklyn boy avoided well the blows, and made good use of his left on Gibbons's head. Gibbons was the victim of Cushing's rushing tactics, and had struck, up to the eleventh round, but four blows, which had not weakened Cushing.

The sharpest fighting really began at the fourteenth round.

In the eighteenth round Gibbons started in with a left-hander on Cushing's chest following it up with a blow over the heart which staggered his opponent.

Cushing toed the scratch in the nineteenth but was unable to resist Gibbons's onslaught. Gibbons pounded him on the face and under jaw. The last blow given with La Blanche's shift of position, felled him to the floor just as the time limit expired. He partially revived.

The party was made up of New York, New Jersey and Boston sporting men.

Wrecked by Train Robbers.

SEDALIA, Mo., November 7.—A train on the Missouri Pacific was wrecked by train robbers near Otterville this morning. The train consisted of seven coaches, including mail, express and baggage. The robbers removed the spikes and fish plates and placed crowbars under the rails so they would spread. The engine, tender, baggage and express cars were wrecked. Engineer John Bord and four postal clerks were injured but not fatally. The smoking car, full of passengers, turned upside down, but none of the passengers were seriously hurt. Two chair cars jumped the track but did not turn over.

KANSAS CITY, November 7.—A special from Sedalia, Mo., says that a significant fact in connection with the wreck is that Detectives Frank Tutt and William Barrett, of the Missouri Pacific secret service, and several witnesses in the noted case of the Otterville train robbery were on the train. They were en route to Otterville to testify in the case of Hughes and Huffman, arrested for the "Robbers' cut" robbery, whose trial was to have been commenced to day. It is thought to be possible that the accomplices of the prisoners wrecked the train in order to put these witnesses out of the way. Detectives Tutt and Barrett started from the scene of the disaster immediately after the occurrence of the wreck to work upon the case. No clue as to the identity of the robbers has as yet been discovered.

Death Stepped In.

CHICAGO, November 7.—A short time ago, ex-Alderman Wheelan was shot and killed by a man named Hathaway. It was a matter of common notoriety in political circles that Wheelan was the go between, or clearing house, for bribe money passing between corporations wanting a franchise and purchasable members of the city council. An afternoon paper says that shortly before his death Wheelan deposited $30,000 in a bank in this city as a step towards its transfer from a certain elevated railroad in need of a franchise and certain aldermen desirous of realizing the financial value of their votes in granting it. The paper points out that Wheelan's death leaves this city sum in a peculiar situation. Though in Wheelan's name it does not belong to his estate, the railroad people dare not take action to recover it and the aldermen have no claim on it and dare not enforce it if they had.

Mexican Duty on Cattle.

WASHINGTON, November 7.—A statement having appeared recently to the effect that the Mexican government had placed a duty on cattle from the United States, the secretary of agriculture immediately called the attention of the department of state to the matter, with a request that the real facts be ascertained. He is now in receipt of a communication from the state department enclosing a telegram from the United States consul general at Nuevo Laredo, in reply to one from the state department instructing him to make inquiries on the subject, in which that official states that no such duty has, to his knowledge, been imposed by the Mexican government, but the government is now preparing a tariff bill, none of the details of which have been so far made public.

Cabinet in Session.

WASHINGTON, November 7.—The cabinet met to-day and discussed the character and scope of the annual reports of the executive departments to congress. All members were present, except Attorney General Miller and Secretary Rusk.

[illegible] Killed.

SHANGHAI, November 7.—A terrible accident occurred at Tai Ping Fo, where are the government powder mills. The explosion demolished the buildings. Three hundred persons were killed.

Senator Quay attributes the result of the election in Pennsylvania to "lack of votes." He need not have gone so far from home for a reason.

Judge Story only ran a few hundred behind his ticket in Arapahoe county. This is very remarkable, because the News again and again reiterated the charges that Judge Story had committed all sorts of criminal offenses in Arkansas. The inference is that the people do not trust the News. There was an excellent illustration of the same fact in the opposition to Harry Dunbar in 1888. Notwithstanding the serious charges made by the News, he ran pretty well with his ticket. A newspaper, after all, is a good deal like an individual. If it is careful and honest in its statements it is generally believed. Whatever it says carries weight. But if it is always reckless in its statements, and often false, its charges against public men do not carry much weight.

From present appearances, Mr. Eaton has proved to be the strongest man on the state ticket. The state ticket does not include Mr. Townsend. Mr. Townsend will probably lead all candidates at the last election, but it will be in a large measure because of the friends of silver in the democratic party who voted for him. But, of the candidates for state offices, Mr. Eaton so far is clearly in the lead. In Arapahoe county, for instance, with ten precincts yet to hear from, Mr. Eaton received 10,572 votes. This was 993 votes more than Governor Routt received, though Arapahoe is his own county, where he has fifty acquaintances and friends to Mr. Eaton's one. Mr. Eaton, even in the same county, ran ahead of Townsend, who had 10,168 votes. In the state at large the republican state committee estimate his majority greater than that of any other candidate on the ticket. This must be a great source of gratification to Mr. Eaton, and every one of his friends.

The Globe-Democrat takes the result of the election somewhat philosophically, though it is a republican paper of a stalwart kind. It published on Thursday morning the following paragraphs:

We move to postpone further proceedings until last Tuesday's election.

The democracy is widening beyond the power of gerrymanders or bed-ticks to stop it.

We wept yesterday for the gentle zephyr of reform, but we seem to have caught on to a cyclone of defeat.

Vilas, Judge is re-elected, but the democracy is howling over the political grave of his federal election bill.

It is all right enough for the unexpected to happen once in a while, but this time it seems to have happened with a rush.

The McKinley bill undoubtedly hurt the republicans, but for a few cents which that measure imposed them of the tariff act deprived them.

As an impartial observer of current events, I feel bound to say that there appear to be entirely too many democrats in the country at the present time.

There are about 2,000,000 fewer people in the United States than were looked for, but the election shows that there are at least 1,000,000 more democrats.

The weeping rod of defeat may be switch with the applied with advantage to a political [illegible] election, but wearing out a hickory stick [illegible] is a little too much of a good thing.

We print elsewhere an article by Captain De Coursey, urging that a starch factory should be established on the Divide. It is the most feasible manufacturing project we have heard suggested. It requires very little capital, very little skilled labor, and the production of the material used can be largely increased. It is rather difficult to get any late figures regarding the manufacture of starch, but, as the starch manufactories of Maine are given as an illustration, we give the statistics regarding the 23 starch factories reported in the census of 1880. The total capital invested in these starch factories was $294,200, or an average of a little more than $12,000 per factory. The number of people employed was 354, or about 11 to a factory. The total amount paid in wages during the year was $23,280, or an average of about $1,000 to each factory. It is evident the factories ran only a small portion of the time. The value of the material used was $329,611, or an average of nearly $15,000 per factory. The value of the production was $442,700, or an average of nearly $20,000 to each mill. From the above it will appear that a factory of this kind can be started with a small capital and yet be a success. It is the way such an enterprise should start, because there may be some difficulty in getting a market at first. It will be remembered that when the Colorado Coal and Iron company started its mill factory the roads east made the rate from Pittsburg to Denver about half the rate from Denver to Salt Lake. The effort to crush out this industry was [illegible], but such attempts are being continually made. The amount of wood paid appears to be very small for such a mill, but it should be remembered that the value of the material used represents a large amount of wages in farm [illegible]. The area of the Divide is equal to the area of the land cultivated in Maine, and there is no reason why there should not be as many starch manufactories here as in Maine. Our railroad [illegible] are such now that we [illegible] easily supply a very large population.

It is to be hoped that the editor of the Dispatch will get some benefit out of his recent experience with the forged [illegible] letter. The management of the paper has been entirely too reckless. Many of our readers remember that the Times kept, for weeks after it [illegible] exposed, an utterly unscrupulous correspondent, who deliberately blackguarded all the prominent people. In one instance, it was only through an apology of the editor that a libel suit was avoided. A newspaper properly conducted never would have had such a correspondent, and, even if it had such a correspondent, would not have printed his impossible stories. There is little excuse for the publication of the Townsend letter. A very little investigation on the part of the Times people would have shown it was a forgery; and a letter coming in such a way, and of so great importance, ought to have been carefully examined. In the first place, it was contrary to what Mr. Townsend had said to a hundred people three days before; in the next place, there was no occasion whatever for his writing this letter, as he had no interest in the legislative fight in Arapahoe county; in the third place, he felt bound to write such a letter the only person for him to to have addressed was Chairman Ashley; and, in the fourth place, it is not probable that he would have sent this letter with a postscript the Times says was on it. The way it looks is this: The Times people thought it would help the gang ticket, and they did not trouble themselves very much to find out whether it was genuine or not. They did not expect that Townsend could be reached before the election to disprove it. If they had known a statement could be brought from Townsend in season for Tuesday morning's Republican they would have been a little more careful in publishing it. They would, at least, have taken the trouble to show it to Chairman Ashley, and other leaders of the party, whose judgment of its genuineness would have been of value.

TWO PROMINENT DEMOCRATS.

The election Tuesday has made two men particularly prominent, who may play some important part in national politics in 1892. Robert B. Pattison, the governor-elect of Pennsylvania, has had a remarkable political career, considering his age, and the fact that he is a democrat and has lived in a republican city and state. He was educated in the public schools of Philadelphia, from which he graduated at the age of twenty in 1870. He began practicing law in 1872. In 1877 he was elected comptroller of Philadelphia, and again in 1880. His election was due in the latter instance very largely to the help of the citizens' committee. In 1882, he was elected governor of Pennsylvania, and served for four years. He is now only 40 years of age, and has the best part of his life before him. His record while governor was exceptionally good, or more weak places would have been exposed in the heat and glare of the late campaign.

The other is William E. Russell, the governor-elect of Massachusetts. He graduated at Harvard in 1877 and was admitted to the bar in 1880. He began the practice of law at Cambridge, and was elected a year after as a member of the council. In 1885 he was elected mayor of Cambridge, and made so good a record that he was twice re-elected. His good record also secured him the democratic nomination for governor in 1888 and 1889. This year he was not nominated in vain. He is now only 33 years of age, and gives great promise for a bright political future. He would strengthen any ticket on which he was nominated.

THE SUNDAY GAZETTE.

The Sunday edition of the GAZETTE will be well filled with interesting reading. Among the special articles will be found the following:—

New and characteristic anecdotes by Healy, the portrait painter, of many eminent men of letters, both English and American.

A sketch of Guiseppe Verdi, the great Italian composer, with anecdotes of his early childhood and public career.

A London Times correspondent describes the way in which he saw the queen on one of his rare public appearances.

Nye has been visiting the Chicago stock yards, and the result is a disclosure of some of the secrets of the gory business.

Beadle in his notes of a Hoosier's holiday abroad describes his experiences in Paris.

Robert Graves writes of the ups and downs of elections, and how some of the newly elected will be received in Washington.

Suggestion to the Divide.

To the Editor of the Republic:

The true object of our American protective policy is by encouraging manufacturing, to build up large manufacturing populations who will consume all our farm produce, thus making our farmers able to buy the product of our manufactories. In other words the aim and end of "protection" is to make a home market for all we produce, to enable the producer to obtain living prices for his products, so that he can afford to pay the laborer and mechanic wages upon which they, in turn, can live decently. I was reading to day an extract from an eastern paper in which it was stated that the farmers in and around Aroostook, Maine, although their crop of potatoes this year was unusually large, were obtaining better prices than ever before, and were, therefore, in a very prosperous condition. Two reasons contributed to this state of affairs, viz: First, the tariff on potatoes imported from neighboring Canada, and second, the enormous quantity of potatoes used by the starch factories at Aroostook. It is stated that there are about forty of such factories in Aroostook county and that they use upwards of two millions of bushels of potatoes yearly. Think of it! Over one hundred and twenty millions of pounds of potatoes yearly bought from the farmers, at good prices, just for the manufacture of starch! On reading this it struck me at once that the manufacture of starch is an industry that should be inaugurated in our Divide country. Its possibilities are great and the results to our Divide farmers, in the greater demand for their crops, and consequent better prices obtained therefor; in the demand for Divide farms and consequent increased population and wealth, are so brilliant to contemplate, that it seems to me our Divide friends should drop some of the schemes that have been attracting their attention unprofitably, and combine to work up the establishment of starch factories to as great an extent as they can supply them with material. The mere mention of the enterprise should demand for it the earnest attention of our progressive Divide friends, and it should be a simple solution of who shall be first to start the agitation of a subject which shall result in making the Divide continuously prosperous and shall render El Paso county one of the wealthiest counties in the state.

Yours respectfully,
M. L. DE COURSEY.

H. G. Spurgin has been appointed commercial agent of the Chicago and Eastern railway.

Stock Market.

NEW YORK, November 7.—Money on call light, ranging from 4 to 5, last loan 6, closed offered at 6, prime mercantile paper 6 to 7, sterling exchange quiet and weak at 4.79½ for sixty day bills and 4.83 for demand. Weakness in stocks was the feature all the morning, and after 12 o'clock liquidation set in in earnest. Pullman Palace car stock sold off 12 points. A substantial rally occurred at the end of the hour, however, nearly to opening figures. The pressure was resumed after noon, increased in some leading shares with an extremely active business, accompanied by material losses in all portions, the loss in many stocks reaching prices unknown for years. St. Paul sold down to 49½, Rock Island to 69, with others in proportion. Even Sugar joined in the downward movement and settled away to 55½ against 58 this morning. There was some reaction late in the afternoon St. Paul rallied to above 51, others, in many cases, failed to recover more than slight fractions. Illinois Central, however, which dropped to 86, rallied to 89. Rock Island to 70½. The improvement could not be held, and while there was marked falling off in activity toward the delivery hour, the market at 2 15 p. m. was again weak, but at something better than the lowest prices.

Wounded Her Nurses.

NEW YORK, November 7.—Lizzy Holdburg, wife of Henry Holdburg, insurance agent, was found lying in the rear of a building this morning crushed to death. She had been sick some time and confined to her room on the third floor of a building in a very aristocratic neighborhood. During the early morning, while delirious, she eluded her nurses and jumped from the window.

Maurice's Duel.

PARIS, November 7.—The duel between Maurice Bernhardt, son of Sarah Bernhardt, and Bouroy, dramatic critic, who was challenged by the former in consequence of comments upon Mme. Bernhardt's performances in the new play "Cleopatra," was fought to-day and resulted in Bouroy being slightly wounded in the arm.

Silver Purchases.

WASHINGTON, D. C., November 7. The amount of silver offered for sale to the treasury to day was 1,045,000 ounces. Purchases aggregated 420,000 ounces, as follows: Fifty thousand at $1.022; 60,000 at $1.025; 100,000 at $1.0245; 130,000 at $1.023; 80,000 at $1.026.

Lynchers in Pursuit.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., November 7.—Last night a negro applied to Mrs. O. G. Bailey, wife of a prominent citizen, for money. She refused and he beat her to death with a flat iron. A mob is in pursuit of him to lynch him.

Killed his Father.

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., November 7. Stanisloff Virschkowsky, a young Pole, stabbed his father, Joseph Virschkowsky, Monday night at Perth Amboy, from the effects of which he died last night. The young man says his father murdered his mother in Poland.

A Faster Wanamaker.

NEW YORK, November 7.—Succi, the faster, is losing weight rapidly. He is beginning to look pale and haggard. Although he has fasted only 48 hours he has already dropped 10 pounds weight. His pulse is normal.

Harper's Weekly.

ILLUSTRATED.

HARPER'S WEEKLY has never failed to justify its title as a "journal of civilization," and it has done so with a constant regard to enlargement possibilities of usefulness and a higher standard of artistic and literary excellence. It leaves unnoticed no important phase of the world's progress, and presents a record, equally trustworthy and interesting, of the notable events, persons, and achievements of our time.

Special Supplements will be continued in 1891. They will be literary, scientific, artistic, historical, critical, topographical, or descriptive, as occasion may demand, and will continue to deserve the hearty commendation which has been bestowed on past issues by the press and the public. As a family journal, HARPER'S WEEKLY will, as heretofore, be edited with a strict regard for the qualities that make it a safe and welcome visitor to every home.

Bartellott and Stanley

LONDON November 7 Mr Bartellott says that Stanley's account of his brother's death is completely at variance with Jamison's account and Sorga's confession Lieutenant Baert, one of the officers who tried Sorga, says that Stanley asserted that an English jury would have acquitted some one on impeachment in the court martial Sorga's story was that Bartellott was about to strike his wife and as the Manyema penalty for murder is merely pecuniary Sorga needed no further provocation Bonny did not appear until after the scene, and Stanley depends upon the account of the Manyemas he must remember that they were relatives of the murderer

NICHOLASVILLE, Ky Nov 7—A passenger train on the Cincinnati Southern road took a side track at Junction City A freight switching train into the passenger killing six people

A later report says nobody has been killed outright but a number were injured the most serious being Herbert F Tousley Belvidere Ill, concussion of brain and B N Austin assistant general passenger agent of the Northern Pacific road St Paul injured internally

CINCINNATI November 7 Messrs Hardy and Austin at the Good Samaritan hospital this evening are in excellent spirits and have no fear of serious results Both are painfully bruised and have ugly scratches but there are no broken bones and no internal injuries They have been in receipt of many kind attentions from railroad friends in the city

An Aged Counterfeiter

ST LOUIS, November 7—A special to the Republic from San Antonio Texas says James Layton, aged 81, was removed to jail in default of bail Layton is a noted counterfeiter and probably the oldest shover of the queer in the country He was here in the federal court in 1878 and given two years for counterfeiting Shortly after being released he was sentenced to the penitentiary for a similar offense in east Texas He had been out of the penitentiary not more than two years when he was again caught at his old tricks at Yoakum several days since He made an excellent counterfeit of the silver dollar, using a compound of melted glass, lead and other metals, the whole of which he covered with silver He was successful in flooding this part of the state with his spurious coins before being detected His life has been spent in the business and he has taken his arrest with remarkable coolness

Through a Trestle.

ST LOUIS, November 7—A special from New Braunfels, Tex, to the Republic says A portion of a freight train went through the trestle bridge on the International and Great Northern railway, near New Braunfels Engineer James Haley died from the effects of injuries received Fireman W. H. Jones has had his right leg amputated and is in a precarious condition It will be Saturday night before trains can cross the river

HE WAS UNPROFESSIONAL.

A Young Physician Makes a Bad Break by Curing a Man

Hamilton S. Beal was an exceedingly well known man He lives in the Mississippi river bottoms and having, at an early age, acquired a strong appetite for a meal of pudding made of the giblets of the swamp hog, decided to practice medicine. For many years he held uninterrupted sway in the community known as Tupelo Ooze, and it seemed that the people had been "squished" down into the belief that one of their principal aims in life was to be silently martyrized by him In his daily practice he did not discriminate between man and animal He would exert his skill on a sick sheep as readily as he would upon a township constable, but for this we do not think any one can blame him

Recently a new doctor made his appearance in the neighborhood, but of course received no recognition Old "Dock" Beal hooted at him and told the people that when they felt disposed to die, they should send for the fellow. One day a prominent man was taken violently ill, and Beal, after looking at him, declared that he was beyond recovery. The old "doc" was glad of this fatal illness, not that he had anything against the prominent citizen, but because he might now have a chance to settle forever the prospects of the interloping young physician Accordingly he advised the wife of the prominent man to send for Dr Gill The young doctor came, glad that he had at last found an opportunity to exercise his skill, and a few days later the prominent citizen was declared to be out of danger Old Beal had been out of the neighborhood and was returning home when he met the prominent citizen in the road

"Why, many on me, this ain't you, colonel?"

"Yes, I reckon it is," the colonel answered.

"Why, when I left you was about dead."

"Yes," said the colonel "and if you hadn't left when you did I should have been plum dead"

"This here is mighty strange, I must say," said Beal

Yes, it is strange that you didn't kill me, but Gill got there just in time"

"So you think that young fly-up-the-creek cured you, eh?"

"I know he did"

"Are you willing to swear to it?"

"Of course I am,"

"All right; I'll meet you in a day or two."

Several days later the colonel was summoned to appear as a witness before a justice of the peace, and upon arriving was surprised to find that Dr Gill had been arrested

"What is this man charged with" the colonel asked

"He is charged," said the justice, taking his seat and opening court, "with attempting to destroy the reputation of a man that has lived in this community for many years I refer to Dr Beal

"Your honor," said the young doctor "I have never said a word that would reflect upon the character of the gentleman, and I defy any one to prove that I have."

"Oh, you ain't said nothin', old Beal broke in, "an nobody says you have. It wouldn't make any diffunce to me how much you mout have said It was what you done that staggered my reputation it was yo' unprofessional conduct, suh

"Unprofessional conduct" exclaimed the young physician "why, I have done nothing unprofessional"

"Yes you have You have showed gross lack of respect for a old doctor an' of that ain't a lack of respect, I don't know what is."

"How have I shown any lack of respect?"

"Why I said that the colonel couldn't git well, but you went thar an cured him What do you call that but a lack of respect an' what is lack of respect but unprofessional business?"

"Dr. Gill," said the justice "Dr Beal has made out a clear case of unprofessional conduct, and in this community such conduct is a penitential offense I will have to fine you sir Mr Constable, stay close to this man until he pays you six dollars."—Arkansaw Traveler

W. S. Morse, Sergt Signal Corps.

Col. H S Ervay leaves this morning for a trip to Texas and the south He will be absent several weeks

At the South Congregational church to-morrow preaching morning and evening at the usual hours by the pastor

Mr. C. L. Zobrist, of Robinson's pharmacy, left last night for a visit with friends at Geneva, N Y and other eastern cities.

Unitarian services will be held in Odd Fellows' hall Sunday morning. Rev. W. R. G Mellen will preach. The public is cordially invited

A marriage license was issued yesterday to Conrad Theodore Wolfbrandt, of Colorado City and Miss Alma Setteberg of Colorado Springs.

There will be a practice game of foot ball on the Athletic grounds to day at 3 o'clock between the Colorado Springs team and a picked team from the college. No admission fee is charged to witness these games which are often quite interesting.

A warrant was issued yesterday by Justice Weaver for Tom Bell, a Colorado City saloon keeper, on a charge of assault and battery. The complaint was made by a young man of this city, and grew out of trouble in Bell's saloon The case will be heard Monday.

Miss Margaret Merrill, a clerk for the past year at N. O. Johnson's, died Thursday morning, and was taken by her sister to her former home at Charlotte, Michigan, by the Rock Island Thursday evening. Out of respect to the deceased Mr. Johnson closed his store Thursday afternoon

Usual services will be held at M. E. church (South), corner Weber and Cucharras streets, Sunday at 11 a. m. and 7.30 p. m. Rev. E. Evans Carrington will preach morning and evening. Subject of the evening discourse: "Charity or Helpfulness. Friendship of Patronage."

W. P. McKeehan's grocery house has just put two handsome delivery rigs on the streets to take the place of those destroyed by the fire. Both are covered wagons, were made in Chicago and are very attractive The wagons with the horses represent an expenditure of over $1600.

At the First Congregational church, corner of St. Vrain and Tejon streets, the pastor, Rev. Jas. B. Gregg, will preach both morning and evening. In the evening will be given the first of a series of sermons on "Great Questions." The subject of the first discourse will be, "Does Death End All?"

A wedding is to occur in Albuquerque, N. M., November 27th, that will be of interest to many Colorado Springs people, being the marriage of Mr. T. R. Gable, formerly connected with the Midland offices and now private secretary to D. S. Robinson, of the Atlantic and Pacific, and Miss Maude Aldrich, formerly of this city.

Hickey and Wade, the two men arrested for uttering a forged certificate of deposit, were indicted by the grand jury yesterday, and their cases set for a hearing in the district court to-day. If they are found guilty and convicted they will probably rest in the state prison to-morrow night, being about the quickest work on record in this county

There are yet remaining in the Gazette's counting room for sale a number of copies of the publication, "Reminiscences of the T. P. A. Convention," the most magnificent compilation in the interests of the commercial travelers ever offered in this country. The book sells for 25 cents and every friend of the traveling men should possess a copy.

The committee for the fair to be held December 4th for the benefit of the girls' hall of the college, has called a meeting of all ladies interested in this work, for this afternoon at three o'clock in the college chapel Reports will be given by those in charge of tables, and much information in regard to the undertaking. A cordial invitation is extended to all ladies to be present.

A case in Justice Farrar's court has been pending for several days in which A. Maloy, Harry Byrne and Fred McGloughlin, three young ranchmen, were charged with burglary in entering a ranch house northeast of town. District Attorney Garrison examined into the case yesterday and asked the justice to dismiss it, as he did not believe there was ground for the prosecution.

The sudden death of Mr. A. B Corman was due to an accident. He had been at work on his ranch and at evening started to return to his home As he stepped into his wagon the horses turned and the wheel went into a depression in the ground. Mr Corman was thrown on to his head and his shoulders and his neck broken Death was instantaneous The funeral will occur this afternoon from the residence of Mr A H Corman.

Mr Thomas W Keene's engagement in Seattle was one of the most successful ever played in that city He opened to a house crowded to the doors and was received with unbounded enthusiasm. The press of that city speaks of his performances in the most glowing terms, giving especial praise to his Richard III, Richelieu and Louis XI In these characters it is doubtful if Mr Keene has a living superior, certain it is he has very few peers in his tragedy and romantic character acting. He will be seen in this city December 13th and the lovers of the higher form of the drama will then have an opportunity of seeing one of the greatest actors of the stage

Several days ago a woman called at the Exchange National bank and gave her name as Mrs O W Dye, presenting a check for $200 on the State National bank of Denver, made by her alleged husband. She told a very good story of how she must have money to reach her home in Pueblo that night, etc. Cashier Heron, of course refused to honor the check without knowing more of the [illegible] but if the goodness of his heart advanced her $5, took the check, and gave a receipt for the balance The check was sent to Denver, and yesterday word was received that the check is fraudulent All bankers and business men are warned against the woman.

$15.75 buys the student chair at Fairley Bros This chair costs whole sale $2 10, and 20 cents pays the freight on it, so you will readily see that our competitors have but little gall in advertising goods at special price with fifty per cent profit.

This reminds us that not long since we noticed a Chamber suit, preceded "This suit reduced from $35 to $25", the suit cost at wholesale $ [illegible], less a 10 per cent cash discount, or last in the house at about $20, the regular price on this suit being $35, but we have always sold it in bills at $30. It pays to "watch our windows", don't it? but it will pay the people better to buy goods where every item is sold at a fair price, and no Jew tricks.

Great leaders, "WB" selling $3.50 Student's Chair at $1 90

Some lead in Jew tricks preceding bona in auction goods, etc., others lead in all around fair prices, and no deception. Keep in mind that we will refund a twenty dollar gold piece to every person who has paid us more than $4 for a student chair during the last twelve months

Respectfully,
FAIRLEY BROS.

Having leased the Park Cottage, 26 N. Nevada and thoroughly renovated the same, we are now ready to accommodate parties with furnished rooms and board. Table will be supplied with the best the market affords. Table board $5 per week. MRS. W. H. HUGHES

Central Office for Austin Bluff Property.
The finest Suburban Residence Location—combining the mountain and plain in the state. Beautiful parks, overgrown with large pine trees unequaled as a health location. Pure air, pure water and plenty of it, both for domestic and irrigating purposes. No smoke! No dust! The track of the Electric Car Line is already laid from one of the parks in the center of this property to the city limits. Electric Cars are now running, bringing this property within fifteen minutes ride from the postoffice. Several fine residences will be erected on this property at an early date. Special Inducements offered for the next 60 days to parties buying lots with the intention of building at once. Why locate in the smoke and dust of our city when such an opportunity is offered? Each lot contains from one to four acres. Specially adapted for fine residences. This location speaks for itself. All that we ask is an inspection of the property before purchasing.
ELECTRIC CARS Leave Corner of Pike's Peak Avenue and Tejon Street for "AUSTIN BLUFF" as Follows:
8.00, 9.24, 10.00, 10.48, 11.30 A. M., and 12.17, 12.59, 1.11, 2.23, 3.05, 3.47, 4.29, 5.11, 5.53, 6.35, 7.17 and 7.59 P. M.
Each car is a carriage which will convey you to the summit from which you get the finest view in the state
